They wipe tears and sadness away.

They share so much love
and tickles before you
break away.

They lift you up when you feel down.

I could go on and on about Mommy's hands.

You see they are
special in every way.

The way they express her love for me each and every day.

Mommy's hands lead to
snuggly arms,
the warmest kisses, kindest
eyes, compassionate ears
and a super brain that can handle any problem that needs to be solved.

I love Mommy's hands
I think you can see.

What part do you love about your Mommy? Orrrrrrr...

Are these reasons
enough to agree with me?

Thank you Mommy, for being you.
The very best of them
all.

THE END

What do you love about your mommy?
